

Supporting delivery of core and extension roles with disabled children and young people

Who we are:

A national music charity specialising in music, disability & technology. We use technology to increase creative musical engagement, learning and progression with young disabled people. The Drake Music approach is about responding to individual needs, tech, pushing boundaries and having fun.

What do we do?

We partner with Music Education Hubs to support inclusive delivery of both core & extension roles via training, teaching and consultancy. We work both in and out of schools, using music technology to remove barriers.

From developing inclusive ensembles, to professional development for music leaders, we have extensive experience of working with Hubs. We are part of the Alliance for a Musically Inclusive England led by Youth Music and an Arts Council England National Portfolio Organisation.

What's on offer for Music Education Hubs?

Classroom delivery | Working alongside staff & music leaders to leave a skills legacy, or supporting with extra delivery capacity:

- Whole class, interactive music-making using tech
(Core Role 2 | Extension Roles 1 & 3)
- Inclusive ensembles, bringing disabled and non-disabled participants together outside of school
(Core Role 2 | Extension Role 3)
- One-to-one music lessons in schools
(Core Roles 1 & 2 | Extension Roles 1 & 3)
- Progression Routes – Inclusive assessment options
(Core Roles 1 & 3 | Extension Role 1)

Workforce & professional development | Building confidence, transferable skills and knowledge. This delivers Extension Role 1 and supports delivery of all Core Roles:

- How to use assistive & accessible music technology to remove disabling barriers to music
- Making the most of resources you already have
- Using iPads as an accessible instrument
- Disability Equality in Music Education

Consultancy | Developing true inclusivity across your organisation

- Bespoke to your needs, our experienced team can help you to build inclusive practice, strategy and policy.
