

Hackney Music Service: Online Music Tuition Safeguarding Policy April 2020

RATIONALE

During this difficult period of social-distancing and school closures, the Music Service are keen to find ways to ensure continuity of provision for schools, young people and families, and to help maintain a level of connectedness to the musical learning community. To that end we have established opportunities for tuition to continue in the form of online instrumental and vocal lessons using Zoom communication software.

The safeguarding of children and young people is the highest priority during any remotely streamed video lesson. This Online Music Tuition Safeguarding Policy has been developed in consultation with the Hackney Education Safeguarding team and the IT department with reference to DfE guidance for online safety.

This policy operates in addition to, and does not replace, the general safeguarding policy for the Music Service. All points must be observed for the protection of both student and tutor. PLEASE READ THIS ENTIRE DOCUMENT. Schools should risk assess the use of live learning via webcams in line with their online/e-safety policy.

General safeguarding guidelines and conditions for online teaching

School staff will distribute this policy and consent / application form to relevant parents and carers. Completed application forms will be scanned and emailed to the relevant music tutor, and cc'd to Hackney Music Service. The address is musicservice@learningtrust.co.uk

School staff will liaise with the tutor for timetabling purposes. They must also be invited to the online lessons, in addition to Hackney Music Service, for monitoring purposes.

All lessons will be group-based except in exceptional circumstances agreed by HMS and, where appropriate, the School. In some instances, where music tutors are required to use a school-based system, they will need to have and use a school email account. HMS will advise music tutors this applies. Where a 1:1 lesson is permitted, the parent or supervising adult must be present through the lesson.

Communications and lesson set up

1. All lessons will be must be timetabled during normal working hours and kept to the timetabled length with no lesson lasting longer than 30 minutes
2. Tutors must only use their learningtrust.co.uk email address to communicate with parents and must use an appropriate Zoom communications username.
3. Learningtrust.co.uk email accounts are only to be used for work relating to Hackney Music Service.
4. Tutors should only contact students via their parent/ carers email address.

5. The Hackney Music Service must also be invited to attend the live streamed lesson. A member of the Hackney Music Service team may then join that lesson at any point for monitoring purposes, just as they would if they were observing a lesson in a school setting.
6. Tutors must not accept any private offers to do online teaching over webcam / video chats. This leaves them extremely vulnerable from a safeguarding perspective.
7. Tutors must not pass their personal mobile number on to students, only parents/carers.
8. Tutors must not share any content over social media and should not friend or follow pupils on their personal social media accounts.
9. Tutors must report any safeguarding concerns to a Designated Safeguarding Lead at Hackney Music Service.

Lesson Environment, Presentation and professionalism

1. Tutors must not teach a remote lesson unless they are healthy and well enough to do so.
2. Tutor must deliver the lesson from a suitable and safe space for online tuition and, ideally, against a neutral background.
3. Tutors should check that the student is accessing the live streamed lesson in an appropriate space in the home (e.g. NOT from the student's bedroom) and a parent or carer must be present at the start of the lesson and remain within earshot to monitor the live stream throughout.
4. Tutors and children must wear suitable clothing, as should anyone else in the household.
5. Tutors language and behaviour will always be professional and appropriate, just as it would be in a face-to-face lesson.
6. Computers or tablet devices used for live lessons should be in appropriate areas, and where possible be against a neutral background.

Technical matters

1. The live lesson must be recorded and uploaded to the HMS designated central server, so that if any issues were to arise, the video can be reviewed. A transcript of any 'chat' / instructions between the tutor and the student should also be saved and emailed to musicservice@learningtrust.co.uk by the tutor.
2. At the end of each lesson, the tutor, as the host, should end (close down) the online lesson for all participants. If this is not possible, they must ensure that they are the last person to leave the online space, so that no interaction between students is possible after the lesson has finished.

*Further information on the security settings within Zoom are below.

MUSIC TUTORS: ADDITIONAL ONLINE TEACHING GUIDELINES

1. Tutors must make sure their device / laptop is plugged in, so a power supply is not cut mid-way through a recording.
2. Ensure the camera placement is positioned appropriately for the lesson so that the tutor is not too near or far to the camera and that there is enough space to adequately show the instrument for demonstration purposes.
3. Check the sound quality is clear, with no interfering background noises. To support this, tutors should disable 'Persistent Background Noise' and 'Intermittent Background Noise' in the advanced sound settings.
4. Tutors must take care to accurately describe and discuss techniques that would usually be demonstrated.
5. Have resources available and ready to use that will support and enhance the lesson.
6. Set clear homework that progresses on from the lesson, ensuring required documents / resources have been emailed to the student's parents.

PARENTS/CARERS: ADDITIONAL ONLINE SAFEGUARDING INFORMATION & REQUIREMENTS

1. Parents must present themselves at the start and end of the lesson, and remain nearby during the lesson so that they are able to monitor the conversation. They are welcome to stay on camera while the lesson is taking place, as long as this does not disrupt the lesson itself.
2. In a planned group lesson, if only one child attends, then the parent will be asked to remain in the room through the lesson, as if it were a planned 1:1 lesson.
3. Parents must ensure that their child's language is always appropriate, including from any family members (siblings, other relatives) who might be in the background.

6. Your child must be physically located in safe learning space that is appropriate for online lessons (E.g. not the in their bedroom).
7. Your child should be in a room with, or near, an adult, so that the adult can hear and see the lesson taking place. It is the responsibility of the parent/carer to ensure that this is happening.
8. You will need to provide your child with a suitable device for receiving lessons on. This would ideally be a desktop or laptop computer, but it can be a tablet or iPad – mobile phones are not suitable or appropriate and should not be used. The device will need to have a working camera with audio / microphone and should be tested before the lesson begins.
9. Your device will need to be connected to the internet with notification and alerts turned off (so that they do not disrupt the lesson.) Ensure that there is a stable online connection with the tutor before the start of each lesson.

10. The microphone should remain muted while in a group lesson.
11. Gallery view should not be used – the pupil should only be able to see the tutor, so that pupils cannot distract each other.
12. Your child must agree to concentrate and behave as he/she would in a face-to-face music lesson.

14. Your child will not be able to use the 'chat' function or the 'emojis', as these will be turned off in Settings.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION ON ZOOM SECURITY AND SETTINGS

Security settings/functions for online teaching with Zoom

Zoom have improved security functions, which have been pre-configured as default settings for added protection. The software must be kept up to date with the latest version in order to maintain the highest levels of stability and security. Tutors must check all settings, and configure as necessary, before any online session begins.

ID and invitations to lessons

- Removal of ID from title bar to prevent Host/Tutor's information being copied.
- System should be set to issue a randomly generated Meeting ID and Unique Password for each lesson rather than using the Personal ID of the Host/Tutor – this mitigates anyone trying to join future meetings as ID/password won't be the same.
- Host/Tutor receives a notification should any participant share the link with anyone else who is not invited to join the lesson.
- Invitation settings should be set to allow give participants the option to join the lesson using their web browser or Zoom software on their computer or tablet.

Mitigating Zoombombing

- All participants joining the lesson are placed in a 'waiting room' with sound muted and with video switched off, until admitted to the lesson by the Host/Tutor. Whilst in the 'waiting room' participants cannot see, hear, be seen or heard by anyone else in the lesson.
- The Host/Tutor has full control and the ability to remove anyone from the waiting room who was not invited to the lesson.
- Once the lesson begins, the room can be 'locked' by the Host/Tutor to prevent anyone else from joining.
- The 'Share Screen' and 'Chat' functions should be switched off in Settings and is managed by the Host/Tutor.

Other management functions

- The Security button on the Host/Tutor's screen is easily accessible for use by the Host/Tutor during the lesson.
- The 'emojis' function should be switched off in Settings.
- The Host should have their video 'Pinned' to the screen.
- The Host/Tutor has the ability to remove anyone from the session for bad behaviour or where guidelines are not being adhered to. Once removed they are unable to re-join that lesson.
- The Host/Tutor has the ability to place participants back into the waiting room (akin to being placed on hold on a telephone, or waiting outside the classroom, but with no sound or image) should this be necessary.
