➤ Collective Worship Copyright Licence®

The CCLI Collective Worship Copyright Licence (CWCL) permits schools to project or print the words and music of a huge number of popular hymns and songs during assembly singing. You can project lyrics onto a big screen, print song/service sheets or make OHP acetates. With this licence, schools are also covered to make musical arrangements for transposing instruments where a published version does not exist.

➤ Collective Worship Music Reproduction Licence

In publications, a distinct copyright exists in typography. This means that permission is required to photocopy from typeset pages even if the song you wish to reproduce is no longer in copyright. The Collective Worship Music Reproduction Licence (CWMRL) permits schools to photocopy, scan and share typeset sheet music from many of the hymn and songbooks popular in school assemblies. With this licence you can also distribute digital sheet music files by emailing them as PDFs.

Welcome

New & Improved

Welcome to our new and improved reporting application. It's now easier than ever to accurately search and report.

How To Begin

To report songs or music publications covered by the Church Copyright Licence (CCL), start by searching for a song in the search bar above under Search & Report. We recommend that you report regularly, ideally weekly.
