Which Copy Counts?

PMLL offers the Schools Printed Music Licence and the Music Services Licence. A condition of both these licences is that information is submitted on music is copied and arranged to help ensure correct royalties are paid to creators via the publishers.

Below is a table which shows the different activities, and which licence they should be reported under.

Activity	Where do I report the data?
	Schools Printed Music Licence	Music Service Licence
Copying and arranging music as part of curriculum music lessons for pupils of the school	✓	✗
Copying and arranging music as part of extra-curricular activities for pupils of the school	✓	✗
Copying and arranging music for whole class instrumental tuition for pupils of the school	✓	✗
Copying and arranging music for individual instrumental lessons provided via the school for pupils of the school	✓	✗
Activities carried out by music service teachers such as ensemble teaching on school premises for pupils from a range of schools (e.g. where the schools is used as a venue hire by the music service).	✗	✓
Area activities carried out by music service staff such as individual, small group and ensemble teaching at music service or other premises.	✗	✓

Reporting data

It is important that the correct information is submitted under the correct licence. Music Services reporting for the MSL can submit data via the PMLL portal which has a simple data submission form. We can also supply a spreadsheet for you to collate information on the works that have been copied if you are submitting data where works have been copied under the SPML.

We are working on updating the PMLL portal to allow Music Services to be able to submit data on behalf of a school and will be in touch when this is active.

Every Copy Counts

Every Copy Counts (www.everycopycounts.co.uk) is a campaign to help raise awareness of the benefits of the Schools Printed Music Licence for teachers and students, and to ensure data is reported. Please get in touch with them if you would like further information.

Help & Assistance

If you are unsure about which licence to report data under, have questions about a licence, or need help using the portal, please get in touch with PMLL and we are happy to provide training or presentations to staff.
