
Your child and music at transition

Tips for year 6 parents and carers

Moving from primary to secondary school is a new adventure.

There's a lot to think about: from uniform, to friendships, to new routines. Music lessons may be the last thing on your mind.

Yet this is the best time for young people to either continue with their existing music lessons or take them up for the first time. They'll grow in confidence and develop important life skills that will help them settle in.

Sadly, it's at this stage that some young people drop out of music lessons – and once they do, they may never return. That's something they may regret for a lifetime.
